HARMONY EXISTS AMONG MEMBERS OF CITY COUNCIL

That complete co-operation and real harmony prevails in the City Council is indicated by the following letter of endorsement by Councilman A. J. Bodien:

Mr. R. A. Canine, Daly City Record, Daly City, California.

Dear Mr. Canine:

As one of the old residents of Daly City, and as a member of the City Council, I feel that I would be lacking in my duty as a citizen if I did not express my views on the coming election, when Mayor Smith, Mr. Dalton and Mr. Twesten are coming before the people for election as City Councilmen.

It would seem unnecessary to say anything in regard to the well-known record of Mayor H. H. Smith, who has served the city so faithfully for the past twelve years, but it would be a real calamity to Daly City and its citizens if he was not returned to public office. I can't conceive of anyone taking a deeper or more sincere interest in his city's affairs, or handling them in a more efficient, capable or honest manner. Mr. Smith has given so unselfishly of his time to serve the city, and has met with such splendid success, that he is regarded over the entire state of California as an outstanding city executive. Daly City needs him, and should return him to office by a substantial majority on next Monday.

Arthur Dalton and Julius Twesten, who were appointed to fill vacancies caused by resignations on the Council, have more than proven their ability to fill the positions during the months that they have acted in that capacity. They work in complete harmony with the other members of the City Council. As successful business men they add greatly to the strength of the Board, because they can give freely of their time, and because of their contacts with local people and local business conditions.

I have been a member of many fraternal and business organizations in my life, but never have I seen business affairs conducted with the same promptness, efficiency and economy that the affairs of Daly City are handled.

When you have good men in office, it is good judgment to keep them there, and I trust that you will find space in your valuable paper to publish this letter, so that the people of Daly City will know my stand and wishes in the coming election. Vote for H. H. Smith, Arthur Dalton and Julius Twesten on April 14, 1930.

Sincerely and fraternally yours,
A. J. BODIEN.

DALY CITY RESIDENTS ENCOUNTER SNOW DRIFTS

A party of four left Daly City on Saturday, March 29, for a trip to Tuolumne county, near the Nevada state line, to spend the week end at the mountain cabin of Walter Rontin, popular young druggist of Daly City. The trip was made in the new Chevrolet of George P. Marsh, of the Bank of Italy, Daly City. They encountered three feet of snow and in some places the road was almost impassable. Those included in the party were J. McGraw, Walter Rontin, Heinie Lofink and George P. Marsh. All reported having had a wonderful trip.

CELEBRATES TENTH BIRTHDAY

Beatrice Handie celebrated her tenth birthday last Saturday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Handie, of San Pedro avenue. The table was very prettily decorated with Easter coloring and Easter novelties. Beatrice received many lovely gifts. Those present were Ruth Keagle, Lillian Keagle, Helen Denk, Lenora Johnson, Eileen Johnson, Doris and Roy De Vencenzi, John Arthur Moore, Jack Chesterman, Miss Violet Craig, Beatrice and Stephen Handie, Jr., Mrs. A. E. Chesterman and Mr. and Mrs. S. Handie.

EVERY RESIDENT A CITY STOCKHOLDER

Since the World war, the American people have shown more interest in investments than ever before. The Liberty Loans, in addition to rendering most valuable assistance in a time of great need, also taught millions of American citizens some of the primary essentials of investment. With each succeeding year, an increasing interest by the American people in investment has been found. From Liberty Bonds the large and small investor has become actively engaged in the purchase of all types of bonds, common and preferred stocks. Within the last decade we have become a nation of stockholders.

When people invest a part of their earnings in a business they support that business in every possible manner in an effort to increase the value of their investment. The wise investors not only demand a return on the investment, but they study the progress of the corporations in which they are stockholders and put forth every effort to further the interests of that corporation.

Now, let's bring the generality home to our city of Daly City. Every one here is a "stockholder" in our city. And according to the satistics we see that the average man in the average community is spending 71 per cent of his income at home. If we are doing that now, it is fine. If we are doing better, it is still finer. But if we are not, here is a chance to add thousands of dollars at once to the community wealth of Daly City.

Just in the ordinary business of living, every one of us, remembering if we are average, is spending 71 cents out of every dollar earned right here at home. Basing this investment on a minimum standard of living, about $2,000 a year, we "invest" $1,420 in our city. And if we stay here, or have been here fifteen years, the length of time statistics say the average man stays, we will own $21,300 worth of stock in our city.

Are we important to our community? Yes, every one of us—for every one holds an interest in the business of our city which makes him an important factor in keeping the city in business.

With national figures showing that the average period of residence in one locality is fifteen years, those of us who are only receiving the minimum standard income spend $21,300 in Daly City during that period. Most of us spend more.

Our investment in this community, therefore, is a very sizable one. Each year we are becoming bigger stockholders. Has the investment brought us the return it should in the past? Will it bring us a satisfactory return in the future? The answer depends entirely upon us, the stockholders in Daly City. IF EVERY CITIZEN will co-operate in the community development campaign, we will have a more prosperous commmunity, and enjoy rich dividends from our community investment.

HAPPY COUPLE CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING

Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fay, of Ottowa street, entertained a number of guests in honor of the tenth anniversary of their wedding. The house was appropriately decorated in tin trimmings, which was both novel and pleasing in appearance. Dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening and at midnight a very elaborate supper was served. Vocal selections were rendered by the Misses May and Anne Fay, Mr. Edwin Fay and Master Buddie Fay. Mr. and Mrs. Fay were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

Those who enjoyed the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Billie Rose, Mr. and Mrs. John Baumgartner, Mr. and Mrs. Pamral, Mr. and Mrs. G. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rolando, Mr. and Mrs. E. Perra, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fay, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fay, Misses Anne and May Fay and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jeskil. Those from Daly City were Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. James McAtee, and Mr. and Mrs. George Rode.

ENJOYABLE DUTCH WHIST

Mrs. Mary White, of Theta avenue, held a Dutch whist at her home Thursday of last week. There was much laughter among the guests. After an afternoon of card playing, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The guests all agreed that Dutch whist is lots of fun and want more.

Those present were: Mrs. J. M. Cinnamond, of Oakland, Mrs. H. Downing, of San Francisco, Mrs. F. Parker, of Boyes Springs, Mrs. A. Romer, Mrs. L. Power, Mrs. J. Sweeney, Mrs. H. H. Smith, Mrs. E. Twesten, Mrs. J. Hedwall, Mrs. H. Cliver, Mrs. C. Cochran, Mrs. W. Hopman, Mrs. A. Welch, Mrs. Kelley and Mrs. White, all of Daly City.

LET DALY CITY CONTINUE TO ADVANCE

As a rule the average people of any community may be depended upon to render judgment with their ballots in such a way that even the wisdom of the wisest judge, old Solomon, is put in the background.

The President, Congress, the United States Supeme Court, each and all, have made such sad judgments at times that no thoughtful person can read the pages of history without recognizing the weakness of the most powerful.

But, as some one has already said, "The decision of the common people is the voice of God." Their final judgments stand as unchangeable and as just as the regular succession of the seasons of the year. Newpapers may publish their opinions, ambitious candidates may make their campaigns as each sees fit, communities may be circularized, and the air may be alive with radio messages, pro and con. All these offerings are the evidence which will be weighed in the balance and the result of the count of ballots will be, as it ever has been, the unerring and final decision.

With all the respect to all the candidates for membership in the Board of Trustees of Daly City, the idea seems to prevail that the present administration has been fully alive to the great responsibilities of managing a municipality in a most sensible manner. Each one has labored in thinking and doing for the greater comfort of all the people. Not one of them would proclaim that he or his associates has brought about the highly commendable public condition of this city but the voters know that all of them have done their duty to the best of their ability, and as a consequence the old saying "The laborer is worthy of his hire," and "Well done, thou good and faithful servant," will prompt the marking of many a ballot by unaligned voters in favor of the candidates of the administration. With such support, there is every probability of the administration's success in the approaching contest.

However, in spite of the favorable prospects of the administration candidates, no effort will be spared in the canvassing. They and their friends wi'l meet every voter in order to present their reasons and desire for continuance in office. This will be done in a friendly spirit, yet in a thoroughly business-like manner, just as they have performed the duties of their stewardship.

They do this because they wish to be sure when the campaign is ended that no stone has been left unturned and that there wil be no cause for regret.

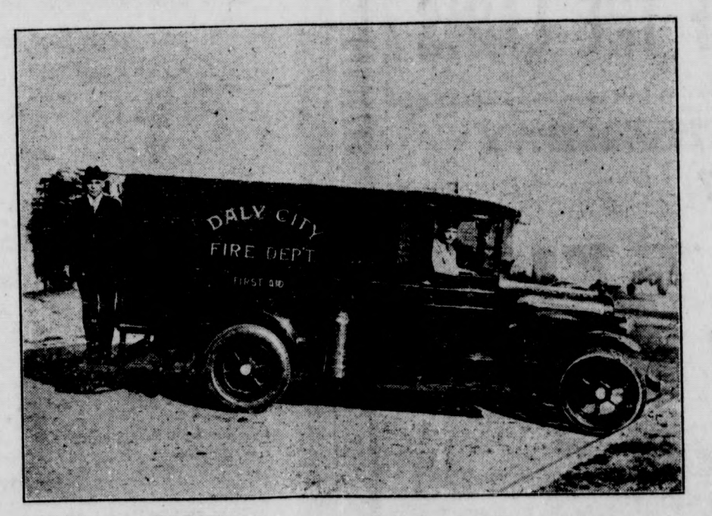
In conclusion, in answer to the question that has been asked since the beginning of history, "Why such anxiety about being returned to office?" It is just human nature to wish to be re-elected. Very seldom is any one found brave enough to say, "I have had my fill of it; I want no more of it."

The thoughtful voter knows all this far better than it can be written, and the general inclination for the last score of years is to let the good work go on and continue the administration in power.

All the evidence at hand, and it is systematically arranged, indicates that Dalton, Smith and Twesten will be re-elected, because they have done their work very well, so far, and are in good condition, in every sense of the word, to continue it for the advancement of this city.

Our people are justly proud of the constantly improving appearance of their city, its unusual opportunities for relaxation and play, its cleanliness in all respects and its general desirability as a permanent home. They are well aware of how the unfortunate here are never forgotten. Above all else they have common sense and know who is deserving of appreciation. They take no stock in sensational propaganda published purposely to mislead them.

NEW FIRST AID TRUCK



Our Fire Department, to which we are indebted for unselfish protection, at all times, is never asleep on the job. If there is anything new and worth while, on the market, there is a desire to have it, provided a reasonable opportunity to obtain it is possible. In this respect the city fathers always go the limit, for every such investment adds to the comfort and security of the people.

One of the recent purchases is a truck, now in the care of Station No. 1, Santa Barbara and Hillcrest. Captain W. Harman is its special custodian. He has been instructed in its management by Ed. Krase of the Burlingame Red Cross.

This truck is servicable in three ways. In case of fire it carries 600 feet of hose; the police may use it as a carrier; and for the accommodation of the stricken or injured, it is supplied with first aid equipment, two stretchers, and blankets.

Captain W. Harman is very proud of this new addition to the fire department, and feels sure it will prove of great benefit in times of stress. The great city of San Francisco has only two trucks of this kind.

This additional fire equipment was dedicated with becoming ceremonies on February 15 of this year.

Visitors From Nevada

Mr. and Mrs. V. Fenstermaker, of Hanover street, have had as their house guests for the past month their sister-in-law and niece, Mrs. M. Armstrong and Miss Alberta Armstrong, of Sparks, Nevada.

CONCERNING OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT

Daly City is now equipped with five motor driven apparatus located in five stations in advantageous parts of the city, and carrying in addition to other equipment a supply of hose sufficient to meet every emergency.

A plentiful supply of hose is the principal requirement in equipment for good fire protection in this city, as the municipal water system in addition to supplying an abundance of the purest of water to be had anywhere, also supplies water for fire protection at such a high pressure that it is not necessary to use the costly pumping apparatus in use in most every other city.

This condition applies in all parts of the city with the exception of a small section at a high elevation, and the truck in Station No. 4 is equipped with a pump to take care of this condition.

Many unusual plans in the operation of the Daly City fire department account for an economy and efficiency which is recognized and looked upon with amazement by other cities.

Particular mention may be made of the arrangements whereby every member of the water and police department is in reality a paid fireman, being on call at all times. J. J. Kennedy, superintendent of water works, holds the position of chief of the department.

The only difference between this plan and the one usually followed by other cities is that our firemen are scattered about the city at all times where there are five well-equipped stations and apparatus, whereas under the usual arrangements in fire departments they are centered at one station, with one set of apparatus.

The wisdom of this plan is shown by the fact that it has met with the approval of the Board of Fire Underwriters to the extent that Daly City enjoys a very low fire insurance rate, practically the same as in large cities where costly apparatus is installed and operated at a very great expense. This low rate of insurance is enjoyed particularly by home owners.

Another proof of the success of the plan of operation in the Daly City fire department is the small fire loss over a period of many years. This has been a matter of most favorable comment.

Nothing could possibly be said that would give full and proper credit to the members of the volunteer fire department of Daly City, with its board of fire commissioners and officers and approximately seventy-five firemen, for their co-operation and splendid work ever since the first settlement of this community. They are not only willing but anxious to go forth at any time to defend Daly City homes and business places.

The unselfish and excellent volunteer service rendered by the firemen of Daly City during all these years is an example of faithfulness and public spiritedness that is most commendable, and this service is an excellent indication of the love and loyalty these men have for the city they have chosen to make their homes.

BOARD FAVORS ROAD BUILDING

The San Mateo county board of supervisors last Monday passed a resolution calling upon the State highway department to construct a cross-country boulevard from San Mateo to Half Moon Bay.

The petition sets forth the great amount of travel from central county points to the beaches in the vicinity of Half Moon Bay and called attention to the present narrow and dangerous highway. The supervisors urged the state to include the funds for the highway in the next budget, claiming that the need was urgent.

The appeal called for the appointment of a committee from San Mateo county to wait upon the highway commission and point out the need of the cross-country boulevard. This committee was named by Chairman C. V. Thompson and includes: Dr. Thompson, chairman of the board; Mayor G. A. Buck, Burlingame; Mayor William H. Taylor, San Mateo; Judge John J. McGrath, San Mateo, and Fred Drake, president of the county chamber of commerce.

The board also ordered that the county survey for the Junipero Serra boulevard be completed from Burlingame to the southern boundary of the county.

The appointment of a fire commissioner for Belmont was postponed for a week, as was the Millbrae water issue.

April 14 was set as the date for a hearing for the annexation by Belmont of certain unincorporated areas lying to the south of the city. The city reported that the few residents inhabiting the territory had already given their approval.

ANNUAL AUDIT OF CITY BOOKS SHOW EFFICIENCY RULES

The following letter has been received by the editor of the Record from City Councilman Henry Sundermann, who has been chairman of the finance committee of the City Council for several terms:

Mr. R. A. Canine, Daly City Record, Daly City, California.

Dear Mr. Canine:

As a citizen of Daly City for the past twenty-five years and as a member of the City Council for the past ten years, I am deeply interested in the outcome of the city election on next Monday, April 14th. I realize how important the outcome of this election is to the people of Daly City.

The affairs of the City Council have always been conducted in harmony, and the good of the city has always been the foremost consideration in everything that has been done, and results speak for themselves.

No action has been taken on any matter that comes before the Council without a full analysis and consideration by all the members.

As chairman of the finance committee for several terms, I want to say that every dollar of expenditure has been carefully scrutinized before receiving the approval of the Council.

The fact that the general government of Daly City is conducted at an annual cost of approximately $40,000 is conclusive evidence to all who have given any study to city government that our city is run on an exceptionally economical and business-like basis.

The low per capita cost of Daly City's government has attracted state wide attention and has been referred to as an example of running a city that might well be followed profitably by all cities.

An annual audit has been made by certified public accountants for the last sixteen years, without a single discrepancy appearing, and showing the financial affairs of the city are in very fine shape.

The people of Daly City can be absolutely assured that the same splendid condition of affairs will continue if H. H. Smith, Arthur Dalton and Julius Twesten are returned to office. I would be neglecting my duty as a citizen and an officer of Daly City, with my knowledge of these affairs, if I did not urge the election of these men as City Councilmen. Daly City needs them. They have proven their ability and merit your continued confidence and votes. Make no mistake. Retain Dalton, Smith and Twesten as Councilmen.

Sincerely yours,
HENRY SUNDERMANN.

"WELL BABY CLINIC"

A meeting was held by the board of directors of Daly City Children's Health Center, "Well Baby Clinic," in the Daly City Theatre building on Wednesday, April 9, Mrs. Julia O. Jordan, chairman, presiding, with Mrs. Maynard Chesney, Mrs. E. C. Boyle, Mrs. Wm. Sherwood present.

A report of the last clinic, which was held Wednesday, April 2, was read, stating that 31 infants had been examined by Dr. H. G. Henderson, who is in charge of the clinic. This shows a one hundred per cent increase over the opening clinic, when 15 babies were examined. The three P. T. A.'s of Daly City are happy to know that there is such a popular demand for this new activity.

Woodrow Wilson-Vista Grande P. T. A. are in charge for the month of April, Mrs. Wm. Sherwood, Mrs. Margaret Woodside, Mrs. L. Rizzola being the committee for the month.

The three P. T. A.'s are planning a large whist game for the benefit of this "Well Baby Clinic," to be held in the City Hall Auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 6. They wish to invite everyone interested in this worthy cause to come and help put the new clinic on a sound financial footing, for the good of the community's most valuable asset, its children.

MERCHANTS LOSE SLUGGING MATCH

In a contest featuring several long hits, the Orange Crush nine walloped the Daly City Merchants, 8 to 5, last Sunday on the Jefferson high school diamond.

The Orange Crush sluggers collected thirteen hits from Randall and Hawley, Merchants' pitchers, for a total of twenty-four bases. Two home runs, two triples, one double and eight singles constituted the barrage. Brasesca, right fielder, and Clark, pitcher, led the attack with three safeties in four times at bat.

The Merchants were not weak at bat themselves. In only one of the nine innings the local team failed to collect at least one hit. "Duke" Cruchoff garnered a double and two singles in four trips to the plate, to obtain batting honors for the losers.

Dick Randall started on the mound for the Merchants, and was relieved by Hawley in the eighth inning after sustaining a wrenched knee earlier in the game.

The Orange Crush nine started the game with a home run. Maysonave, shortstop, hit the first ball pitched for a circuit clout. Two more runs crossed the plate in the following inning, two in the fifth, and one in the sixth, eighth and ninth.

A four run rally in the fourth inning put the Merchants in the lead for a short time. Plansky, Drucker, Arnold, Cruchoff and Maloney garnered hits in succession to drive over the scores. Arnold's home run drove in three of the tallies.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHAPEL'S PALM SUNDAY SERVICES

Rev. Charles Woessner, pastor of Calvary Baptist Chapel, 5724 Mission street, announces services next Sunday as follows: In the morning, "On the March With King Jesus;" in the evening, "Facets of Truth From the Diamond of the Ages."

Next Sunday will be Palm Sunday, when the King, at last, is come into His own. The week of the Passover has become Coronation Week. Though crowned at last with thorns; though the cross became His throne—this was His time of triumph. Though it ended in pain and death, it was a conqueror's pain and a hero's death. As a commander gives his life, leading his troops in battle and by his daring saves the day for his country and wins undying fame, so did the Captain of our Salvation ride through "the greatest week of history." Dear to the Christian world is the story of Christ's one day of triumph, Palm Sunday. The church rejoices because even for one brief day He was haled as a King.

Jesus is passing in triumph today! Thousands upon thousands joyous and grateful ones sing to His name. The long line runs back through a thousand yesterdays to the dim horizon of Christian history. And where do you stand? Holding aloof as the Pharisees on that first Palm Sunday? Ah, men and women, how many are standing today by the wayside as the Lord passes by? Are you going to be there when the ransomed shall sing,

"Bring forth the royal diadem
And crown Him Lord of all."

UNION SERVICES AT OCEAN AVENUE CHURCH

A three-hour service will be held on Good Friday from 12 to 3, in the Ocean Avenue Presbyterian church. Various pastors of the community, including the Daly City Methodist pastor and the Presbyterian church pastor, will take part. The services will be in charge of Rev. Willis.

Daughter Comes to Spoules Home

If you had seen George Spoules smiling March 81, you could have guessed the reason. The popular waiter in Pete Pavlos' restaurant has a new addition to his family. A 7½ pound girl was born at Lane hospital.

The young couple reside at 24 Hillcrest drive. From the last report the new arrival and mother are doing fine.

Frankly now, who is more competent to run the city's affairs than those who have performed that task so long and faithfully?

SAN JUAN GRADE TO BE ELIMINATED

Monterey good roads enthusiasts are rejoicing over their successful battle for the elimination of the San Juan grade and the approval of the Prunedale cut-off which is to take its place as a principal part of the Coast Highway, remarks the National Automobile Club. A survey of the new route will start immediately, following the appropriation of $10,000 by the State Highway Commission.

The new Prunedale route will still further motoring time to Del Monte and the Monterey Peninsula, from San Francisco, Oakland and all Northern California points. The new route will also eliminate most of the curves and cut the grade to a fraction of its present elevation, at a cost no greater than that of maintaining the present highway. The new route will cut the grade elevation from 1,015 feet to 500 feet or less than half of its present elevation. It will increase the radius of curves from 100 feet to 1,000 feet and the minimum visibility on curves from 75 feet to 600 feet. On the San Juan grade there are 113 turns. The new route will have but 38. These were a few of the advantages of the new route over the old, mentioned at a recent meeting.

The new route will have advantages for the pleasure driver as well as the commercial shipper. The driving time between Salinas and San Francisco will be cut about twenty minutes and a stretch of tortuous, dangerous road will be eliminated, making driving a pleasure instead of a nerve-wrecking strain.

The plan given their approval is: relocation of the highway west of the present grade, starting from a point north of San Juan and rejoining the highway at a point south of the present grade; the present highway to be maintained as a part of the state highway system, as an extension of the Hollister-San Juan route; the short piece of the present highway north of San Juan to be maintained by San Benito county as a county road, with the understanding that legislation will be enacted making it a part of the state highway system.

Funds for the construction of the new route are not available at present but the commission approved a recommendation to include approximately $800,000 for the work in the next state biennial budget. Although actual construction will be delayed until funds are provided for in the budget, the commission announced that the survey would start immediately and that engineers will be at work in a few days.

TAFORAN RACING MEET A SUCCESS

Nearly 25,000 persons have gathered at Tanforan since the opening of the 13-day meeting last Saturday before an inaugural crowd of more than 10,000 racing fans. All through the week the spectacular racing contests have lured goodly crowds, and indications are that the greatest crowd ever to watch a race at Tanforan will assemble there tomorrow (Saturday) for the finest card yet presented.

Entries in the Norfolk Handicap, tomorrow's (Saturday) feature race will include such notable horses as Golden Prince, Eskimo and probably Naishapur and Jim Dandy. Golden Prince will be remembered as the winner of the Coffroth Handicap at the Agua Caliente meeting just closed. Eskimo is the prize mount of Norman W. Church, and has established an unusual record on American tracks.

Naishapur, owned by Chaffee Earl's Wilshire stables, arrived at Tanforan during the week and is being put into form. Naishapur needs no introduction to followers of the turf, being widely known as the winner of the Tia Juana Derby, and second money in the famous Kentucky Derby. Jim Dandy, another Earl horse, stepped into the limelight when a year ago the nag raced under the barrier at Saratoga as a feature winner at long odds.

Alexander Pantages, Agua Caliente cup winner, also may be entered in the Saturady feature. Pantages made a wonderful record for himself at the Caliente spring meeting and has given very favorable account of himself in fast company on other tracks.

Despite the great crowd on hand to witness the inaugural, San Bruno police, in charge of keeping order at San Mateo county's sporting green, reported that there was not the slightest disorder, and every day since has been just as orderly, police reports show. The Pacific Coast Breeders' Association, sponsors of the meeting, have been highly complimented on the conduct of the races. Persons prominent in every walk of life have been spectators at the meet, and, judging from the enthusiasm displayed, found keen enjoyment in the contests.

Another feature of the race meeting that has won favorable commment from turf followers is the fine calibre of horses entered and the keen competition among stables for laurels at the track.

Parking facilities at the track are ample for any amount of cars that may enter the grounds, officials announce. Comparatively no difficulty was experienced in handling the record inaugural crowd and fifteen minutes after the last race nearly every car had left the field.

GIVEN PLEASANT SURPRISE BY FRIENDS ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. A. W. Sadler, of Risel street, was given a most pleasant surprise last Saturday in honor of her birthday. She left her home with a group of friends to visit a sick friend in the Community hospital. While she was gone some more of her friends decorated her house for the party to take place upon her arrival at her home. A most enjoyable evening was spent playing games, after which delicious refreshments were served. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sadler and daughters Rita and Irma Mae and son Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. L. Baggs, Mr. and Mrs. G. Simister, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Blake, of Millbrae; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Roberts, of San Bruno; Mr. and Mrs. S. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. George Felsch, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Duffner, Mrs. Oral Stowell and Mrs. Lila Barstow.

LENTEN SERVICES AT GRACE CHURCH

Grace Presbyterian church will conduct services every evening next week beginning Monday and concluding Friday evening. The subject will be the series of events preceding the Resurrection of Christ. These services are designed to be instructive and worshipful and will be helpful in the lives of those attending.

The Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem; the Betrayal by Judas; the Trial and the Crucifixion will all be taken up in historical order during the week.

Services will begin at 7:45 every evening. An Easter morning service at 11 will be made more than ordinarily attractive by the boys' choir and the girls' choir.

An Easter Pageant by the young people will dramatically portray the events of the Holy week. This pageant will be held Sunday evening, April 20.

Leaves $10,000 Estate

Mrs. Annie Edwards, San Mateo resident for 40 years, who died March 29 while on an automobile ride near San Mateo with members of her family, left an estate, consisting of real and personal property, valued at $10,000, according to the petition for probate of will, filed in superior court Monday.

SPRAY FINISHING—A NEW HAZARD IN THE HOME

The rapid growth of the spray method of finishing in the automobile, furniture and other industries has awakened manufacturers to the possibilities of this method in the home. In almost every paint store there are elaborate window displays illustrating how articles of furniture may be quickly painted, enameled, or finished in the wide variety of pyroxylin lacquers now on the market. The factors of labor saving and finish naturally appeal to the public, but the hazard inherent in this method of application must be recognized and steps taken to thoroughly acquaint the users with the dangers and the necessity of employing safeguards and the proper use for the equipment.

The value of the sprayer has been emphasized for starting camp fires, furnace fires, fires in open grates, a means of thawing out frozen pipes, burning off paint and to be used as a fire torch. These suggestions are dangerous—if followed they will cause fires and loss of life. An inexperienced public has been invited to play with a serious, unsuspected danger—encouraged to use insecticide sprayers for the purpose of exploiting a new feature which is extremely hazardous. Every fire chief and other public official, indeed every person reading this article is urged to act promptly in checking the improper use of spraying devices by pointing out the atendant danger to life and property.

Even devices and equipment designed and intended for purposes such as burning off paint or as a fire torch used by skilled tradesmen require utmost care and precaution. Hence it is apparent that this very real danger becomes more pronounced when supplemented by a device not even originally designed, fashioned or intended for such work.

Reputable manufacturers recognize their own responsibility in the use of their equipment and see to it that the necessary instructions and safeguards for proper use are supplied with each outfit. Such instructions and precautions are more apt to be read and therefore observed if they are printed on a conspicuous label permanently attached to the sprayer.

Many of the cheap grades of paint are thinned with naphtha, a petroleum product, very similar in hazard to gasoline. Pyroxylin lacquers, brush lacquers containig pyroxyolin, and as a matter of fact most materials sold under this designation, contain for solvent and thinning purposes amyl acetate, alcohol and similar liquids which, as in the case of naphtha, are highly inflammable. These give off vapors which may be readily ignited and which may flash back to the user from a flame seemingly located at a far enough distance of safety.

Spraying should, therefore, be carried on out-of-doors whenever possible, so that the vapors will be quickly dissipated and carried away in the open air.

If of necessity spraying is carried on indoors, every effort should be made to ensure that there are no nearby open lights, fires or other sources of ignition; that the windows and doors are open to the outside air where constant circulation is taking place and will thus hasten the movement of the vapors by drafts to the outside.—By V. Savelly, Fire Prevention Committee of San Mateo's Firemen Association.

Americans make a lot of money, and many spend more than they make. What some of it goes for is indicated by statistics recently published showing that they have scrapped 15 million motor cars for which they paid 12 billion dollars in the last 10 years.

An apparatus for attachment to automobile exhausts to neutralize the deadly gas, carbon monoxide, has been invented by scientists at Johns Hopkins University.

FISH AND GAME NOTES

By J. H. NEUSTADT

In the early days of California there was an abundance of natural food resources and the white population, for teh most part, overlooked the lowly abalone. The abalone in those days were comparatively plentiful.

The Chinese population, however, inured for centuries to utilize every available possibility which promised any nourishment, had long known and used the abalone in their country, and viewed the teeming, wave-washed rocks of the California coast with mercenary satisfaction. The abalones were dried in great quantities and sent to China.

In accord with the reckless disregard shown a newly discovered natural resource, the Orientals took any and all abalones they could obtain.

I find a protest against the restricted "fishing" of abalones in 1900. The continued gathering or "fishing" of abalones along the coast of California has recently led to restrictive action by some of the county authorities. The supervisors of Monterey, and of other seaboard counties, have taken the necessary legal steps to regulate the fishing, which has been carried on continuously from about 1864 to the present time by the Chinese, and of late by the Japanese.

The well known species Haliotis so abundant between tide marks a few years ago have, owing to the unintermittent collecting by the Asiatic fisherman, become comparatively scarce.

An ordinance recently passed by the authorities of Monterey county makes it unlawful to "fish" for abalones except in deep water, and by means of diving apparatus or other deep sea device. A license of $60 is also to be charged in the future for "fishing of abalones.

The canning of abalones in California started about 1905 at Cayucas. In 1917 there were five plants canning abalones. In 1921 there were three; one of these was at East San Pedro and the other two were at Monterey. Until 1928 a cannery operated in Carmel Bay. At the present time, there is no canning of abalones in California.

The drying of abalones has been prohibited in California since 1915. They are utilized only in the fresh state at present. The red abalone s the only species of commercial importance.

One of the best moves made by the Fish and Game Division toward the protection and propagation of quail is the invitation being extended to the farmers.

This is made necessary on account of the heavy toll exacted by inclement weather, forest fires, and lack of water and other causes during the summer.

In the effort to overcome this loss and endeavor to restock California's game fields, it is suggested that farmers be asked to reserve a suitable location where water is continuous during the season, and neither shoot nor allow shooting in that particular location at any time in or out of season, for a period of three years.

This would be a quail sanctuary, yet the birds would rove all around and allow good shooting in season, and yet the birds when retiring to the sanctuary would be protected.

The farmer would maintain his right, same as now, of determining who if anyone should shoot on his land, and yet while respecting the sanctuary, provide fine sport in season over every other part of his property.

Where conditions aare good, quail are not migratory, if unmolested. Feed, water and sanctuary will mean success in propagation and protection and the fecundity of the birds is such that in three years the farmer will be in possession of birds aplenty, and shooting possibilities that will make him the envy of his more short-sighted neighbors.

No cost, no sacrifice, just a little common sense, and the farmer can accomplish more than the state game farms, or the Fish and Game Commission, who are more or less powerless if the public is indifferent to their efforts.

The Fish and Game Commission is so heartily in favor of this move that instructions have been given to all wardens to personally call upon the farmers and urge them to voluntarily set aside a ravine, gulch or canyon where quail now exist and make it a sanctuary.

MASSIVE SCREEN SPECIAL AT DALY CITY THIS WEEK

For tomorrow, playing both matinee and night performances, the Daly City Theater will present Monte Blue with Guinn Williams and a large cast of players in the Warner Brothers' Vitaphone special, "From Headquarters," a big smashing talking, thrill special of the U. S. Marines in the Tropics. On the same bill there will be presented Dorothy Dwan and Tom O'Brien, together with fourteen other screen stars, in "Peacock Fan," a mystery thrill story.

For Sunday, the Daly City Theatre will present Jack Gilbert in his first Metro Goldwn talking picture, "His Glorious Night." In this picture play Gilbert is supported by many talking screen favorites, including Hedda Hopper, Katherine Dale Owen, Nance O'Neil and Richard Carle. On the same bill will be shown another of the Travel Talks. This time it "From Granada to Toledo." "Old Vamps for New" is a talking comedy and features Al Cooke. A Sportlight News and a novelty reel complete the show.

For Monday, Eddie's Advershow will be the featured attraction, with his big stage party. On the talking screen, Lewis Stone will appear in "Wonder of Women," a big talking special. And on the silent screen, Tom Tyler will thrill in "Law of the Plains."

For Tuesday and Wednesday, Marilyn Miller, with Alexander Gray, Joe E. Brown and Pert Kelton, will appear in "Sally," First National Vitaphone's tremendous musical special. "Sally" has been acclaimed by many as even greater entertainment than "Rio Rita." By all means see this wonderful attraction. On the same bill Charley Chase will convulse in his latest comedy, "Crazy Feet."

For Friday night the Daly City Theatre will present "Blackmail," a big thrill talking special with Charlie Pritchard.

SUREST FARM RELIEF

Any farm relif worthy of the name must come from the farmer himself, in the opinion of agricultural authorities, with governmental agencies ranking a poor second-best in any real improvement of the farm situation. Increase of efficiency on the part of the farmer himself will go furthest towards improving rural conditions.

There are certain basic principles which must be followed if a farmer is to succeed as he should. The first of these is that a great share of the products of the farm family should be produced at home; second, that the farm land should not be robbed year after year, but should be kept up and improved; and third, that the farmer should keep livestock and grow more than one cash crop.

Failure to realize to the fullest upon certain inherent advantages of farm life is depriving many farmers if a large share of the ready cash which their fellow farmers are securing each year. Profits from the farm poultry flock is one of these things, to cite an outstanding example.

Farmers in some sections of the country are making each hen on the farm pay a net profit of between $1.50 and $2.50 a year. Many farmers, however, overlook this valuable source of income, leaving it to their wives as a "pin money" proposition. Improvement of farm poultry stock, principally by taking advantage of a greatly improved hatchery product, has made possible large profits from poultry activities in recent years.

Retention in office of the present City Councilmen means a continuation of efficiency and progress.

"THE CRIMINAL CODE" COMING TO THE GEARY

Belasco and Curran, who have sponsored a number of notable successes here, will next present "The Criminal Code," the well-known Martin Flavin work which is said to have swept blase Broadway off its feet through the sheer power of the play's vivid and eloquent dramatic story. When the attraction comes to the Geary Theatre, beginning Monday night, April 21, there will be seen among others of the New York cast, the distinguished actor, Arthur Byron, in the role of the District Attorney who becomes warden of a State prison. His performance is rated as the finest achievement of the present season in New York.

In the role of the youth, who by accident kills a man and who being convicted is sentenced to ten years in the pen, where he becomes the prey of the criminal code will appear Russell Hardie, whose portrayal was one of the high lights of the Broadway production.

It has been whispered that Mr. Flavin was inspired to write "The Criminal Code" by the unprecedented wave of prison breaks that have occurred throughout the country during the past year or so. But it happens that the play was written in January 1928, following a visit to a famous State's prison. What he wrote came as the result of "a terrific and instantaneaous emotional reaction" to what he saw and heard and felt.

In spite of the suggestion that might be contained in the title, there is no court room scene. All of the swiftly moving thirteen scenes of the play, except one, are laid in various parts of the penitentiary.

Dalton, Smith and Twesten stand for a bigger and better city.

An Alabama railroad man declared he was "ready, willing and anxious for a reconciliation" after his wife had sued him for divorce seven times. But maybe he was merley trying to dodge the alimony.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Birthday honors such as few men have ever received were accorded Dr. William Henry Welch, of Johns Hopkins University, on his 80th birthday anniversary, April 8. The celebration was international in scope, with simultaneous gatherings of Dr. Welch's friends, colleagues and former students in Washington, London, Paris, Berlin, Leipzig, Tokio, Peiping, New York and other cities.

President Herbert Hoover spoke at the Washington celebration and paid tribute to this noted physician and educator, known as the "dean of American medicine."

In spite of his 80 years, Dr. Welch is still active as professor of the history of medicine at Johns Hopkins, president of the Rockefeller medical research board, and a trustee of Carnegie Institution. He holds a number of foreign decorations and about all the degrees and honors the world has to bestow for professional attainment.

The committee in charge of the birthday celebration said: "America owes more to Dr. Welch than can ever be told in any tributes. Through the reforms which he has instituted in medical study, through his researches, the many hundreds of doctors trained by him, and the vital public health measures which he has inspired, it is literally true that millions have benefited from his contribution."

It is eminently fitting that this grand old man of American medicine should have an international birthday party upon attaining the age of four score. Let us hope that his years of usefulness may be extended indefinitely.

THE NEW PLANET

For years astronomers have searched the heavens for a ninth planet, which matematical calculations led them to believe existed beyond Neptune. It remained for a young American observatory assistant, Clyde Tombaugh, 23 years old, to find it. It was not discovered directly through a telescope, but as a faint spot of light on a photographic plate, and later verified as the long-sought body.

It may be unknown to many that this is the third planet of our solar system to be discovered by man during the last 150 years. While the nearer planets were known to the ancients, Uranus was not discovered until 1781, nor Neptune until 1846. The newly found planet has not yet been named nor has its size been determined.

Its distance from the sun is thought to be between three and four billion miles while the earth is a little less than 93 million miles from our central luminary. So while it is interesting to know that we have an additional member of our solar system, its presence will have little effect upon practical affairs.

A few days after the discovery of the ninth planet was announced, an Italian amateur astronomer claimed that he had found four new planets, making 12 in all, but so far his claim has not been verified by any recognized authorities.

Daly City's low cost of city government is the envy of every city in California. You may continue this condition of affairs by retaining in office A. J. Dalton, H. H. Smith and Julius Twesten.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Ever since the stock market crash last fall many conflicting opinions have been expressed concerning the business outlook for 1930. There is no denying the fact that there has been a slowing down in certain lines, but the views of leading industrialists and business men appear quite optimistic with the advent of Spring.

There is no doubt that the concerted effort of these leaders to maintain high levels of production and distribution is having a wholesome effect. Besides, large expenditures for permanent improvements by Federal, state and local authorities are getting under way, while billions are involved in expansion programs of railroads, utilities and other basic industries.

An especially favorable trend is seen in the direction of home building and home improvement, concerning which a significant statement was made last week after a nationwide survey by Altorfer Bros., makers of Spinner washers, who said: "Home construction is up 425 per cent since 1920, and wired homes have doubled in the intervening 10 years. Various leading electrical home equipment distributors throughout the United States reveal comprehensive plans to build new business during the year. There need be no apprehension; indeed, there can be only optimism regarding 1930."

Encouraging reports have been forthcoming from many other sources, so it appears that the temporary depression may soon be ended. Incidentally, the passage of the pending tariff bill should have a salutary effect upon the business situation, through relieving the feeling of uncertainty which now exists in several important industries.

WALTER ECKERSALL

Followers of sport were saddened recently by the sudden death of Walter H. Eckersall, one of the greatest football stars of all time, also famous sport writer and referee. His life was snuffed out by a heart attack at the age of 42.

Eckersall attained the pinnacle of gridiron fame as end and quarterback of the University of Chicago team between 1903 and 1906, being chosen as a member of Walter Camp's mythical All-Americans in three successive years. During his football days Eckersall's weight ranged from only about 135 to 145 pounds, yet such was his speed, skill and audacity that he mowed down heavyweight rivals who crossed his path.

By the younger generation of sport fans he was widely known and acclaimed as a football writer and referee of the highest rank. His contributions to the sporting page will be sadly missed by his admiring followers.

Eckersall's early death will again revive the argument as to whether too strenuous athletics during youth may not entail serious physical penalties in later life. There is a good deal of evidence to indicate that this is so, but the ambitious college athlete will hardly modify his exertions on that account.

When the glory of alma mater is at stake, all else is secondary.

POWER AND PROGRESS

So accustomed are we to think of New York City as ranking first in nearly everything that it may be surprising to many to be told that three cities—Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit—each use more electric current than the great metropolis.

While New York uses only two-thirds as much current as Chicago, it nevertheless uses four times as much as London, and more than twice as much as either Paris or Berlin.

These facts are stated in a recent business discussion by Silas H. Altorfer, the well-known Peoria manufacturer, who also declared that this year the total output of electric power in the United States would exceed one hundred billion kilowatts for the first time. Continuing, he said:

"More than 4,000 towns and villages have added electricity in the past five years, an increase in communities served of 25 per cent. Americans will spend more than a billion dollars this year for household electrical equipment alone, exclusive of the tremendously bigger investments in the field of industry. Spinner washers, ironing machines, vacuum cleaners, percolators, toasters and dozens of other home appliances will help to swell the demand so that it is no wonder we use as much electricity as all the rest of the world, although our population is only one twentieth of the total."

Which is an added explanation of why America's progress remains the wonder and envy of the rest of mankind.

Better retain the men who have made good in the administration of Daly City's affairs. Vote for Dalton, Smith and Twesten.

A novelist makes the hero say: "As I gaze upon your face, time stands still." And the heroine probably wondered whether he meant that her face would stop a clock.

When in need of help, you call on the man who knows how. The men who are now serving Daly City as Councilmen "know how."

OLD CITIES' NEW NAMES

Those of us who got our smattering of political geography back in the nineteenth century have seen much of it repealed by the changes which have followed the world war.

The map of Europe as we imperfectly knew it is now something vastly different. The names of several of the world's most famous capitals have been changed, some of them twice.

St. Petersburg was changed to Petrograd early in the World War, and after the rise of Lenin to power it was called Leningrad, and so remains. Norway's capital, Christiana, reverted to its ancient name of Oslo. Pekin or Peking was changed to Peiping, and some say Peping is the present form.

Now we hear that the old favorite spelling test, Constantinople, has been abolished, and that Turkish city, no longer the capital, is henceforth to be known as Istambul, after discarding at various times its former names of Stamboul, Byzance, Byzantium, etc.

But we should worry. So long as they don't change Washington to Hoovergrad or Grundyville.

Your present City Councilmen devote more time to city affairs than any one else would.

UNORDERED MERCHANDISE

There is a bill before Congress which would prohibit the mailing of merchandise to prospective customers who have not ordered it. For many years it has been the practice of various concerns to mail out hosiery, neckties, perfumes, greeting cards and the like to lists of persons likely to accept and pay for the stuff rather than go to the trouble of returning it.

This practice is the source of great annoyance to persons whose names happen to get on the mailing lists of the firms employing it. Even though there is no legal obligation to pay for or return the goods sent them "on approval," most persons will do one or the other through fear of appearing to be dishonest.

While, ordinarily, we do not favor the passing of more laws for the restriction of the public, the schemes which are being worked for forcing merchandise upon unwilling customers are a nuisance, and ought to be prohibited.

STICKING TO THE JOB

Were the average youngster inducted into a new job and positively assured that he must remain with the same institution for 70 years, he would probably look upon the prospect with horror.

But August C. Kessinger, of Rome, N. Y., has voluntarily stuck to the Sentinel that long, thereby establishing a record that is probably unique in the annals of newspaperdom. Eight years as an employee and 62 years as publisher summarizes his connection with that newspaper.

During his regime the Sentinel has chronicled the events of the Civil War the Spanish-American War and the World War, as well as many stirring happenings in between and since. It has seen its home town grow into a thriving manufacturing city and has doubtless contributed more to the advancement of its community than any other agency.

Yet there are probably a good many readers of the Sentinel who feel that they could give Mr. Kessinger some valuable advice on how to run a newspaper.

Colma News Notes

Mrs. Riccomi and son visited friends in San Francisco last Tuesday.

Many local racing fans have been attending the races daily at Tanforan race track.

Mr. Richard Zipser motored with a party of friends to Searsville Lake last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Callan, of Crocker Tract, were visiting friends in Colma last week.

The Colma Meat Market is being white enameled inside by Carl Schwarz, local painter.

Stephen Fischer, of Castle street, caught three fine striped bass last week, the largest weighing six pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heeringa and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Prain spent four days of last week visiting Mr. Henry Bauer, of Colusa.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Cattori and daughter Elizabeth visited Mrs. R. Belli and family, of Burlingame, former residents of Colma.

Mr. and Mrs. Prain, who have been the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Heeringa for the past week, will go to Lake Tahoe for the summer.

Local dance enthusiasts are looking forward to the annual dance to be given by La Fiesta Social Club in George Washington Temple, May 17.

Miss Callista Dalton entertained the members of La Fiesta Social Club last Wednesday evening. Plans were discussed for the club's dance, and for a truck ride to be given in the near future. After the business meeting, delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Florence Hopman, Christine Hume, Tessie O'Connor, Elsie Fahey, Margie O'Connor, Nora Healey, Edna Boyle, Louise Clemens, Audrey Diamond, Annette Lucey, Laura Figone and Sylvia Fischer.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Finn motored to San Jose, where they spent the past week end.

The children of the R. S. Thornton school had their pictures taken last Thursday morning.

The schools of the Jefferson district will be closed next week for the annual Easter vacation.

Miss Mary Zipser hiked to Muir Woods with a number of friends last Sunday, having a most enjoyable day.

The Colma Volunteer Fire Department put out a fire on Rainier street in record time last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moresco, of Watsonville, former residents of Colma, are the proud parents of twin daughters.

Misses Marian, Katherine and Helen Fischer, Theresa Morazzini and Mr. Stephen Bildhauer were Colma visitors last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Bertini and daughters Victorine, Bernice, Claudia and Helen Bertini spent an enjoyable week end at Calistoga.

Mrs. Thomas Fehey was initiated into the Ocean View Circle of the United Ancient Order of Druids at Burlingame last Wednesday evening.

The second annual sport dance of La Fiesta Social Club will be given in George Washington Masonic Hall, at San Jose and San Juan streets, on Saturday evening, May 17.

The Colma Super Service Station being built at Mission and Vale streets is now receiving the finishing touches, and up-to-date machinery is being installed for washing and greasing of cars.

The members of the Mission Riding Club, who have their headquarters here, are preparing to participate in the Livermore rodeo, July 4, 5 and 6. Larry Hagen will be in the bucking horse events.

San Mateo Parlor No. 1930, composed of the six Native Daughter Parlors of San Mateo county, held a joint meeting in Masonic Hall, Daly City, with El Carmelo Parlor No. 181 as hosts. The District Deputies of the various parlors were the presiding officers and put on the ritualistic work, with Hattie Kelly as President. Grand President Esther R. Sullivan was the honored guest and was presented with a gift of Sterling silver. Past Grand President Dr. Louise C. Heilbron, Grand Marshal Evelyn I. Calson, Past Grand President Margaret Hill, Trustees Eldora McCarthy and Sarah Brainard, and Inside Sentinel Millie Rack were also present. Supervising District Deputy Cora Girard was in charge of the arrangements and an enjoyable evening was had by all present.

AN AMBITIOUS LADY

Miss Olga Ottoboni, of Lanwdale, and well known in Colma, is ambitious to become city clerk of her municipality. She is the first of the fairer sex of her community to enter the political arena. She has always been enterprising, possessing both winsome ways and superior wisdom. She served on the recent grand jury of the county and at present she is one of the busy census enumerators. Many friends are supporting her for the clerkship and wish for her success.

LA FIESTA CLUB DANCE

Don't forget the time, place and date—8:30 P. M., May 7, at the George Washington Temple, San Jose and San Juan avenue. Dance and social given by members of the La Fiesta Club. This will be the club's second annual sport dance and headed by Miss Nora Healey, the members are working hard to make this affair as successful as the one given last year. A good time is assured all who attend. Music for the occasion will be furnished by a first-class Union orchestra. Don't forget and boost this affair, given by this young ladies' local club.

COLMA FIREMEN MAKING PREPARATION FOR PICNIC

The fourth annual picnic to be given by the members of the Colma Volunteer Fire Department will be held at Lovchen Gardens on Sunday, April 27, and promises to be the most interesting affair in the history of this splendid civic organization.

The advertising committee, Constable S. A. Landini, E. Grazianni and George Krehl, are doing everything in their power to see that this may be a day of enjoyment for all who are present at Lovchen Gardens on April 27.

Dell's accordion orchestra will provide the music, and in addition to the dancing and feasting there will be many other forms of interesting entertainment for young and old.

Reserve the date—Sunday, April 27—and have a good time with the Colma fire boys.

MEETS WITH PAINFUL MISHAP

Martin Mohr, of Whittier street, former butcher boy for E. Micco, of Mission street, on the evening of March 28 left his home with a party of friends to motor to Salada Beach to spend the evening. The following friends, Miss Edith Taylor, of Peoria street, Miss Evelyn Mohr, Robert Bemis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garibaldi and Mr. and Mrs. John Garibaldi, instead of spending the pleasant evening previously planned, rushed their friend Martin Mohr to the South San Francisco hospital. He had stumbled over a log and cut his left hand upon a piece of glass which was in the sand, severing an artery in the hand. Dr. Barrett dressed the hand and had to put twenty-four stitches in it. Infection set in and Martin spent a week in the hospital, but at the present writing is scomewhat improved.

ADVISED OF ADVANTAGES OF SUMMER TRAINING CAMP

Stressing the fact that the policy of the United States is against a large standing army, and that officers for an emergency are trained largely by the summer Citizens' Military Training Camps, Colonel Kirkbride and Captain Elder spoke to the students of Jefferson Union high school last Tuesday on the purpose and nature of the yearly training camps.

Colonel Kirkbride told the students of the advantages of the training camps, first to the government, in developing men capable of taking command in the event of war, and second, to the men themselves, in providing good disciplinary training and healthful surroundings.

Life in a training camp was explained by Captain Elder, who described the duties of the men and their recreational opportunities. He advised the boys to enroll in one of the camps as a school group, assuring them that if they did so, they would be assigned to the same division, that they would be among friends. Prospective candidates were also urged to bring baseball mits, as the government provides other equipment for a team.

Men and boys planning to attend one of the camps this summer were advised to enroll early to insure acceptance. Application blanks were left with Mr. Ferguson for the use of high school students.

The training camp at Monterey begins July 5 and lasts for thirty days. There is no charge and accepted candidates are allowed 5 cents a mile from their homes to the camp. It is estimated that this takes care of meals as well as transportation for the trip.

A SPANISH DINNER

Mrs. M. Wegner, who is planning to leave next month on a trip to Europe, gave the girls with whom she works in the Relish Bakery and a few friends an enchilada dinner last Monday night. From 8 to 11 o'clock the guests enjoyed playing progressive games. At 11 o'clock the hostess served a Spanish dinner, which was very much enjoyed by all present. The girls gave Mrs. Wegner a most wonderful surprise when they presented her with a leather-fitted traveling bag. At this time many good wishes were extended to Mrs. Wegner. The girls left declaring that they had enjoyed a wonderful time, and wished the hostess bon voyage. Those present were Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Grantham, Mrs. Barrickla, Mrs. Birch, Mrs. Pachico, Mrs. Stuhler, Miss Nellie Fontannna, Miss A. Klingler, Miss S. Munz, E. Munz, Mrs. F. Mooney and Mrs. M. Wegner.

GENERAL PERSHING P. T. A. HAS NEW SET OF OFFICERS

At a special meeting held at the school house on Tuesday, April 8, the members of General Pershing P. T. A. elected the following officers to take over the work for the coming year: Mrs. E. Boyle, president; Mrs. J. Burns, vice-president; Mrs. Lucile F. Forrest, secretary; Mrs. P. A. Lyons, treasurer; Mrs. E. F. Deskins, publicity chairman; Mrs. Frank Watson, membership chairman; Mrs. A. Eason, reciprocity chairman; Mrs. W. N. Wallace, auditor.

Miss Roussell, District President, will officiate at the installation, which will take place on Monday, April 21, in the General Pershing P. T. A. room. All members are requested to be present to help make this one of the most successful meetings of the year.

After the meeting adjourned, Mrs. Lohr, district school nurse, gave a short talk relative to the advantage of purchasing a supply of toxin-antitoxin to keep available for use of the school children.

The P. T. A. wishes to thank the management of the Daly City Theatre for their splendid co-operation in planning a theatre party for the General Pershing kiddies on Saturday, April 12. The kiddies will meet at the school or theatre, which ever is most convenient. Those meeting at the school will leave promptly at 1:30 P. M. Don't be late.

Vote for Dalton, Smith and Twesten next Monday, April 14.

And you are hereby notified that, unless you so appear and answer, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint, to-wit: That it be adjudged that the plaintiff is the owner of said property in fee simple absolute; that his title to said property be established and quieted; that the Court ascertain and determine all estates, rights, titles, interests and claims in and to said property, and every part thereof, whether the same be legal or equitable, present or future, vested or contingent, and whether the same consists of mortgages or liens of any description; that plaintiff recover his costs herein and have such other relief as may be meet in the premises.

WITNESS my hand and the Seal of said Court this 3rd day of February, 1930.

(SEAL.)

ELIZABETH M. KNEESE, Clerk.
By Mura B. Stilleson, Deputy Clerk.

MEMORANDUM.

The first publication of this Summons was made in the Daly City Record newspaper on the 7th day of February, 1930.

The following persons are said to claim an interest in, or lien upon, said property adverse to plaintiff:

The City of Daly City, Daly City, California.

City of San Bruno, San Bruno, California.

City of South San Francisco, South San Francisco, San Mateo County, California.

Albert A. Molfino, Attorney for Plaintiff in pro. per., Colma, California.

Feb. 7 - April 11, 1930.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Little Mike Barskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Barskey, of Hillcrest Drive, was guest of honor at a party in honor of his second birthday. A huge birthday cake with two candles was the center-piece of the table decoration. The baskets of Easter eggs and bon bons were green and yellow. Refreshments were served at 7 and 9 o'clock. The little folks left for their homes tired but happy. Those present were Marjorie and Irene Anderson, Betty Hickey, George Berry, Rose, Shirley, Gertrude, Ruth and Neva Atkins, Barbara, Philip and Jack Rodgers, George and Lenore Lewis, Myrtle and Clarence Smith, Ernie and Marion Foss, and Mike Barskey.

Dalton, Smith, Twesten. Dependable, safe, trustworthy. Vote for them.

IF YOU ARE AN AVERAGE INDIVIDUAL, seventy-one cents out of every dollar you earn is spent in this Community on the "every day business of living." Out of each dollar earned most of the other twenty-nine cents goes into savings, luxuries and incidentals RIGHT HERE.

You may not live within a stone's throw of the post office—your home may be miles out of town—but if you do business here you are as much a part of this Community as those who live within the corporate limits. You are spending your money here—enjoying its advantages—and national statistics show that the chances are 4 to 1 that when you move you will move into this Community.

National figures show that the average period of residence in one locality is fifteen years. More than 71% of your total income for fifteen years represents a large sum of money. It also represents your Community "investment."

Take a pencil and paper and figure just how much you have "invested" in this Community while living here. Think of how much more you are likely to "invest!"

It's a lot of money, isn't it? You're a larger "stockholder" in the town than you realized, aren't you?

Figuratively speaking, we are all "stockholders" in our "Community Corporation," and the business, professional and civic units are the "Guarantors."

Looked at in this light, it is important to sit up and take notice; to find out just what this "investment" has brought us and what the prospect is for future returns.

Vital? Important to you personally?

IT IS!

Last week a number evinced interest in this survey. It appears for the purpose of civic development, sponsored by the undersigned, without cost to the reader. Let us hear of your interest in the Community of

"Beginning at a point on the Southerly line of Brunswick Street distant thereon 170 feet Easterly from the intersection thereof with the Easterly line of Acton Street, formerly Henrietta Street, as said streets appear on the map above referred to; running thence Easterly along the Southerly line of Brunswick Street 25 feet; thence Southerly parallel with the Easterly line of Acton Street 94 feet; thence Westerly parallel with the Southerly line of Brunswick Street 25 feet; thence Northerly parallel with the Easterly line of Acton Street 94 feet to the place of beginning."

And whereas, said deed of trust was executed and delivered for the purpose of securing the payment of said promissory note and also of all other moneys therein and in said deed of trust provided to be paid by said grantor, FRANK A. WILSON, or which might be paid out or advanced by the beneficiary or trustee under the provisions thereof, with interest in each case; and,

Whereas, said deed of trust was recorded in the office of the Recorder of San Mateo County, State of California, on November 6th, 1926, in Volume 271 of Official Records at Page 213; and,

Whereas, the beneficial interest under said deed of trust has passed by mesne assignments of record from the said JOHN R. LINDSAY and MARY C. LINDSAY, his wife, R. C. LEE and VIOLETTE M. LEE, his wife, G. J. GENSLER and DEBORA GENSLER, his wife, the beneficiaries therein named, to CASTLE BUILDING CO., a corporation, the assignment to the said CASTLE BUILDING CO. being dated October 31, 1928, and recorded November 17, 1928, in Liber 376 of Official Records at Page 479, in the office of the said Recorder of San Mateo County, California, and,

Whereas, the said promissory note secured by said deed of trust was duly endorsed and delivered to the said CASTLE BUILDING CO., a corporation, (formerly Gensler-Lee Investment Corporation) which said corporation now is, and during all of the times hereinafter mentioned has been the owner and holder thereof and beneficiary under said deed of trust, and,

Whereas, said grantor, FRANK A. WILSON, has defaulted in the payment of said promissory note and in the payment of other indebtedness secured by said deed of trust, and has defaulted under the terms of said deed of trust and said promissory note, and,

Whereas, the said CASTLE BUILDING CO., a corporation, as such beneficiary, did heretofore and pursuant to the Statute in such case made and provided, on the 18th day of September, 1929, record in the office of the Recorder of said San Mateo County, State of California, in Volume 441 of Official Records at Page 3, its notice of default and breach of said grantor under the terms of said deed of trust and of the obligation for which said deed of trust is security and notice of its election to sell or cause to be sold the real property hereinabove described, and,

Whereas, the said beneficiary has requested and authorized the undersigned trustee to sell the property described in said deed of trust and hereinabove described for the purpose of satisfying the indebtedness of the said FRANK A. WILSON under the terms of said promissory note and deed of trust,

Now, therefore, pursuant to said notice and demand and in accordance with the terms and under the authority of said deed of trust the undersigned trustee hereby gives notice that default has been made in the payment of the principal and interest of said indebtedness secured by said deed of trust, and that on SATURDAY, the 19th day of April, 1930, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, at the main entrance of the California Pacific Title & Trust Company's Building, No. 148 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, California, said trustee will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash the hereinabove described real property, or such portion thereof as it may in its discretion deem necessary to sell in order to accomplish the objects of the trust in said deed of trust provided.

All bids and payments shall be made in lawful money of the United States at the time of said sale.

The beneficiary under said deed of trust or any other person may purchase at said sale.

Dated this 27th day of March, 1930.

The Crippled Lady of Peribonka

By James Oliver Curwood

WNU Service
(©, 1929, Doubleday Doran & Co., Inc.)

STORY FROM THE START

Introducing some of the people of the pretty little French-Canadian village of Peribonka, particularly the Crippled Lady, idol of the simple inhabitants. Paul Kirke is a descendant of a sister of Molly Brant, sister of Joseph Brant, great Indian chief. He has inherited many Indian characteristics. His father is a powerful New York financier. Paul marries Claire Durand, daughter of his father's partner. He is in charge of engineering work near Peribonka. Paul's wife is in Europe. She dislikes the woods. Paul becomes interested in Carla, village teacher. Paul writes his wife to join him. Carla's mother, long an invalid, dies. Claire announces her intention of joining Paul on the Mistassini. She writes a letter of sympathy to Carla. Paul becomes aware of a gulf between him and his wife.

Claire came to the Mistassini on the first of June. It was the fifteenth when they went to what Paul called the Big gorge, ten miles back in the rocky forests. This is the date which will remain a long time on the calendars of the simple-hearted folk north of Lac St. Jean, because of the miracle which happened on it. It is a date almost to be canonized. Priests speak of it, and people point it out, as a day of infallible proof of the omnipotence of God.

Lucy-Belle is not remembered, though it was she who planned the expedition to the gorge. In it, besides herself, were her husband and Paul, Claire and Carla. For two days preceding the journey Paul had men on the rough and narrow trail clearing it of obstructions and overhanging limbs and brush so that they might travel over it on horseback.

Paul had seen Claire turn white and tremble at the foaming unrest of the Mistassini beating eternally against its rocks, just as he had felt her shiver, one evening, in a deep and gloomy place in the forest, where the wind was whistling through the pine tops over their heads. He had taken her hand, and her fingers had clung tightly to his, as if these things which he loved sent a horror through her. On the morning of this eventful fifteenth of June, with sunshine and birds about them, he and Derwent rode a little behind their wives and Carla, and never had Claire looked so lovely to him. Her beautiful body seemed vibrant with the thrill of the day, her voice was sweet to hear, her eyes were filled with laughter, until he could almost make himself believe she loved the things which she was facing, and which had so completely conquered her until now. Her unhatted golden head and Carla's dark one rode side by side, one a shining radiance in the sun, the other richly lustrous, with gleamy pools and seas of darker shadow in it. For half a mile they followed a trail so close to the river that its roaring tumult drowned their voices and cobwebby drifts of spray came to wet their faces. Through this Paul rode close to the side of his wife, and saw her smile and fight to hide its effect upon her. Then they struck Indian file into the narrow, rocky, deeply rooted trail to the gorge, with Paul at the head of the little procession and Derwent following last. Occasionally the trail widened so that Paul could drop back and ride beside Claire, and each time he noted a little more in her face and eyes the thing she was fighting against, her dislike of the black forests and the earthly smelling swamps and the rock fragments of hills they were traveling through.

Toward mid-afternoon they came to the Big gorge. Those who have seen it can never forget the spectacle of its thundering water tearing itself out of a finger of the cavernous Laurentians, crashing through the open for a space in whirling maelstroms, then narrowing into a sullen, oily-looking avalanche of irresistible force as it descends into a chasm whose rock walls become higher and closer, until, at last, its fury and voice disappear again into the bowels of the Laurentians, making the earth tremble with its subterranean rumble and roar.

Its effect on Claire was not what Paul had anticipated. To his amazement it was she who suggested they spread their luncheon on the edge of a great slab of rock which projected into the stream, and from where they could look upon the wonderful play of water below them. This rock, several acres in extent, was covered with soil which was continually absorbing moisture from the river, so that it had clothed itself with a carpet of flowers and grass until it was an oasis of beauty in the heart of a rock-visaged landscape which otherwise would have possessed little to offset its more forbidding aspects. It was Claire who also selected the spot for their tablecloth and who arranged their places afterward so that all might sit looking toward the mouth of the overhung chasm, several hundred yards downstream from the rock which held its tenure like an indomitable guardian before it. Between their position and the abyss of the gorge was a black and irresistible sweep of water which had the appearance of a flood of boiling oil on its way to the mouth of a huge funnel. Halfway to the orifice a rock slowly wearing away with the centuries reared its grim and battered head out of the stream, cutting it like a knife in two equal parts. Even about this jagged tooth of stone was no glint of sunlit whiteness of froth or foam, and no sound came from this part of the channel except a sullen murmur and hiss, lending still greater reality to the caprice of thought that water must metamorphose itself to oil before the throat of the gorge would receive it. It was from the other side of the table rock that the chief tumult came, where for half a mile or more the huge churns of the river bed were at work, slashing and twisting the down-rushing floods until, Paul thought, they were an inspiring and beautiful thing to look upon.

Yet it was the darker and more sinister side that Claire chose, with a scene under their eyes that was colossally awesome but equally unbeautiful.

As they ate their luncheon she let him know, for the first time, something of the strange fear which possessed her whenever she was near the fury of rushing water. He was surprised she should speak of it now,

To His Amazement It Was She Who Suggested They Spread Their Luncheon on the Edge of a Great Slab of Rock.

and not at some time when they had been alone. Derwent roused the confusion in her by saying, in answer to a question asked by Carla, that no living creature whose habitat was land could exist for more than a few seconds in the oily Charybdis below them.

Claire shrugged her slim shoulders and looked with unafraid eyes upon what Derwent had accredited with the omnipotence of superdestruction.

"Were you ever haunted by a dream?" she asked. "I have been, since childhood. Most children dream of falling from ladders and housetops, of seeing ghosts, of running away from dangers—but mine was always of water. It has remained with me. I am terribly afraid of water, but only when it is angry. The ocean terrifies me when it lashes itself white. I found a lovely place to paint in Cornwall, but the surf was always beating against the cliffs and drove me away. Water like this below us does not disturb me at all. It is so smooth and unbroken, like the ripples in Carla's hair when it is down—so soft and velvety looking as it turns over and over that I can scarcely believe what you have said, Doctor Derwent. I would jump into it without fear, while back there—where it is breaking itself into spray and foam—I would never have the courage to start!"

"There you might live—here there could be no possibility of it," said Derwent.

Romance From Missives in Cavern Post Office

In Wind Cave National park, south of Custer, S. D., is a cavern serving a unique purpose. Some 200 feet underground, the cavern is called the post office.

Here tourists and sightseers leave mementos, usually their names and addresses scribbled on the back of an envelope or some other piece of paper, and stuffed into one of hundreds of box-like formations on the rock walls These natural crystalline formations suggest the idea of the post office.

A perusal of the "mail" reveals some interesting things. One finds names and addresses from every state in the Union and from foreign countries. It is permissible to take these, and many a miss or youth has visioned his or her future love as a half dozen or more names were selected.

Test in Ordinary Duties

All higher motives, ideals, conceptions, sentiments in a man are of no account if they do not come forward to strengthen him for the better discharge of duties which devolve upon him in the ordinary affairs of life.—Beecher.

THE EAGLES NEST

The regular meeting of the Fraternal Order of Eagles was held on Thursday evening, a very large crowd attending.

Brother Luiga was reported as convalescing at Letterman hospital.

Brother A. Sebastioni was reported laid up with a fractured toe. Brother Barner was still confined to his bed.

The booster committee reported that an initiation will be held on May 1 in honor of Mother's Day. A large class is in the making as quite a few applications have been handed in.

Memorial services for the members that passed away during the past year will be held on Memorial Day.

The Associated Aerie meeting will be held in Daly City on April 24. This promises to be one of the most spirited meeings since its beginning. because of some very important business concerning the coming national convention to be held in San Francisco in August.

Delegates to the state convention were elected and the following members will represent Daly City at the state convention: Brothers Bodien, Schramm, Adams and Kost, with Alternates Shaw, Nessier, Kunze and Harper. These delegates, together with the officers, will constitute a wonderful representation for our thriving Aerie.

Why was the election contested?

Who was the judge? Was he considered when congratulations were passed around?

Who was the business man of Daly City that was absent? Didn't he miss a good time?

From now until the national grand convention in August, the Aerie has some very important business to thrash out. It means that each member should attend the meetings. Things that are vital to Daly City and the surrounding communities are to be discussed and need the support of all members. Come and get interested.

It's bad policy in the face of progress and efficiency to invite depression by making a change in city officials.

NOTICE OF GENERAL MUNICIPAL ELECTION OF DALY CITY ON APRIL 14, 1930.

SAN JOSE ROSE FESTIVAL SCHEDULE FOR MAY 15 TO 17

The Santa Clara Fiesta de las Rosas, a continuation of the custom of holding a spring floral celebration inaugurated by the early Spaniards, will be held in San Jose for the fifth consecutive year on May 15, 16 and 17, according to an announcement by the association.

While the rose parade, on the afternoon of May 17, with its scores of floats completely flower covered; its numerous bands and brightly bedecked horses, is the outstanding feature of the fiesta, other events are on the program this year for the thousands who are expected to attend the fiesta.

The Fiesta Fandango, a brilliant night street celebration, comparable to the Mummer's Carnival at Nice or the New Orleans Mardi Gras, to be held on Saturday night, following the parade, is an innovation this year.

AERIAL ARMADA WILL STAGE EXHIBITIONS

Aerial armadas of the United States Army, which are staging a series of exhibitions this month, will perform spectacular maneuvers over San Francisco April 19 to 24. Among the thrills for the visitors who will throng San Francisco, will be a night bombing of the city on April 19 and 22 and defense maneuvers over Golden Gate on April 24.

Under the leadership of E. Jack Spaulding, general chairman for the celebration, preparations are being made to entertain the mighty corps of airmen—with the largest concentration of fighting airplanes in the world's military history. Serving with him on the executive committee are Carl E. Miles, Jefferson E. Peyser, Angelo J. Rossi, Thomas Boyle and S. A. Stimpson.

MUST BUY AT HOME DECLARES SUPERVISOR

County supplies must be purchased from merchants and dealers in San Mateo county when they quote the same prices as merchants in San Francisco and elsewhere, the board of supervisors so instructed County Purchasing Agent Ernest Werder at the meeting Monday morning.

Demand that the purchasing agent be instructed to buy at home was made by James B. Hearne, a leading Redwood City merchant, who said he was spokesman for merchants' organizations and chambers of commerce throughout the county.
